Education

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

2018 Doctor of Philosophy in Bioinformatics and Computational Biology
Advisor: Daniel Janies, Ph.D.
Dissertation: An Integrated Phylogeographic Analysis of the Bantu Migration
Wayland H. Cato Doctoral Fellow

2015 Master of Science in Data Science and Business Analytics
Advisor: Mirsad Hadžikadić, Ph.D.

2014 Bachelor of Arts in Applied Mathematics, Minor in Psychology
Advisor: Mary Kim Harris, Ed.D.
Coffey Scholar, C.L. Robbins Scholar

Caldwell Community College and Technical Institute

2012 Associate in Science
2012 Associate in Arts

Academic Positions

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Teaching Cloud Computing for Data Analysis (DSBA 6190) for the Data Science Initiative Master's program. Received a funding grant from Microsoft to modernize and rebuild the course content on the Azure cloud platform. Performing research in a broad range of fields in the bioinformatics and computational biology space including infectious diseases, epistasis, and human phylogenetics.

January 2019 - Present	Associate Faculty	Data Science Initiative
April 2018 - Present	Postdoctoral Researcher	Dept. of Bioinformatics and Genomics
May 2016 - April 2018	Graduate Assistant	Dept. of Bioinformatics and Genomics

Northeastern University

Taught a summer session of machine learning to graduate students in the LEVEL analytics program.

May 2015 - August 2015 Lecturer LEVEL

North Carolina New Schools

Responsible for entire technology inventory: ordering, maintenance, management, etc. and maintained school website. Liaison between college & high school technology departments. Taught NCVPS mathematics courses, held additional teaching sessions in math and science and SAT & ACT preparation.

April 2014 - October 2014	Technology Facilitator	Caldwell Early College
April 2014 - October 2014	Mathematics Instructional Assistant	Caldwell Early College

Industry Positions

Edge Systems

Lead data science team through research and development initiatives related to medical device informatics. Responsible for innovation with product marketing and engineering to improve and enhance technology products and processes.

July 2019 - Present Director of Data Science

BlueGranite

Developed data and AI solutions using the Microsoft Azure platform using products such as Microsoft ML Server, Machine Learning Service, Cognitive Services, HDInsight (Hadoop), and Databricks (Apache Spark). Managed client engagements including requirements gathering, project planning, and budgeting. Hosted training workshops and gave conference presentations and demonstrations on Microsoft advanced analytics technologies.

November 2018 - Present AI Solution Architect
January 2017 - November 2018 Senior Data Scientist

Lash Group

Develop machine learning experiments and data analysis workflows to aid in client analytics. Discover, understand, and present insights into patient drug adherence. Consult in company data architecture including master data management and governance for future business strategy to grow value for client accounts.

February 2016 - February 2017 Senior Data Science Lead

Mariner

Consult in the development of machine learning experiments, including parametric and non-parametric models, statistical predictions, and data mining. Build Azure cloud-based solutions for data collection, processing, and storage using Microsoft Azure Technologies such as Data Science Virtual Machines, Machine Learning Studio, Azure SQL Database, and more. Design and create interactive visualizations for both dashboarding and reporting using Microsoft PowerBI, Tableau Desktop & Tableau Server.

October 2014 - February 2016 Data Scientist

Staples

Managed store operations from labor planning, planograms, and inventory. Supervised store P&L of EasyTech department for technology, warranty, & repair service sales.

April 2011 - June 2014 Operations Supervisor & Tech Sales Supervisor

Caldwell Hospice and Palliative Care

Pioneered the transition from hand-written, paper medical forms to electronic data input and served as a database administrator. Worked closely with HIPAA and Medicare/Medicaid guidelines for data compliance.

August 2008 - December 2011 Medical Records Database Administrator
